

Don't judge others

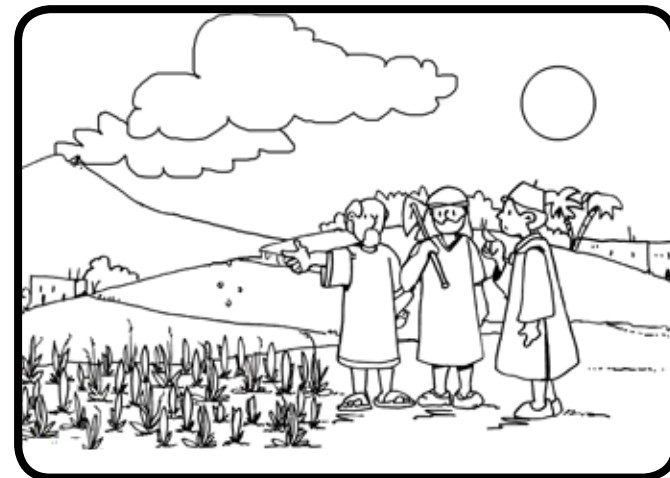

"My friends, don't complain about one another." (James 5:9)

One day Jesus was telling the people a story. A man planted good seed in his field.

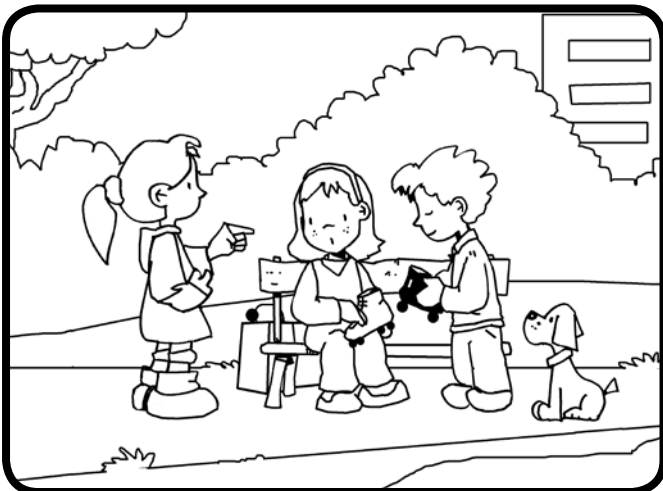

One night his enemy came and planted a lot of weeds that grew together with the good seeds.

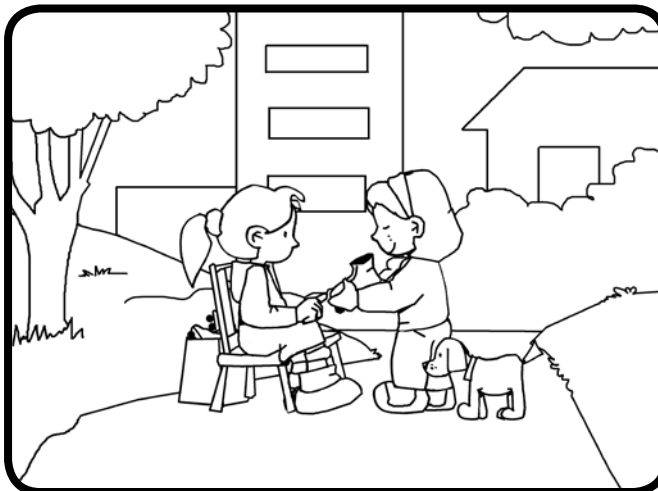

The servants asked the owner: "What should we do now? How can we divide the weeds from the good grain?" The owner told them, "Don't worry! Let both of them grow together and then I will take care of it when we harvest them." (see Mt 13, 24-30)

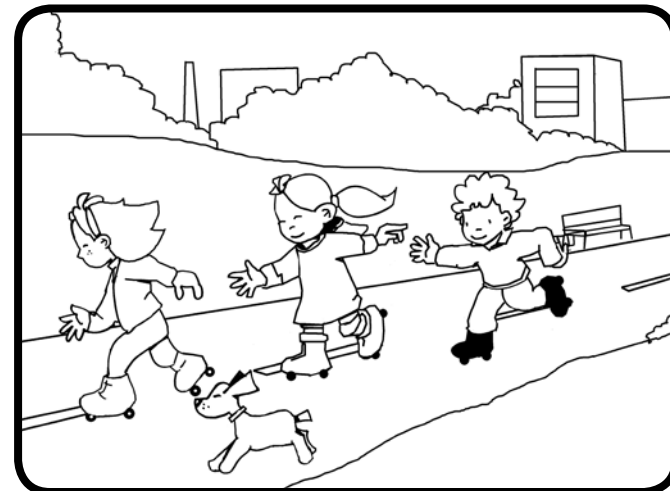

We know that in everyone there are "good seeds" and also "bad weeds." That's why we should not judge one another!

One of my friends is a girl who is very bossy.

Instead of getting angry at her, I helped her.

In that way I didn't think bad things about her or judge her, and so we were very peaceful. (Marie from France)
